Your skin practitioner will tailor a plan that might include treatments spaced weeks apart, or combine lasers in a single session for faster outcomes. It all depends on your skin, your goals, and your unique journey.

Talk to your Etherea MX Skin Practitioner today.

Your Etherea MX provider may offer a combination of treatment modalities (depending on the handpieces they use) or the full suite. What matters most, is how they use them together, for you and your skin concerns.

Ask your Etherea MX clinician:

- Which Etherea MX handpieces do you use?
- What's the best layered approach for my skin concerns?
- How many treatments will I need?
- How soon will I see results?
- Is there any downtime?
- How should I care for my skin post treatment?

LAYERED LASER TREATMENTS for your BEST SKIN EVER

The Etherea MX isn't your average laser - it's a modular, multi-platform system with a suite of specialised handpieces that can be layered together to treat multiple concerns with maximum results and minimal downtime.

Whether you're looking to reduce redness, lift pigmentation, resurface skin, or restore youthful firmness, Etherea's technology works in harmony with your skin - and your therapist - to create a personalised, layered treatment plan designed just for you.

What is Layered Laser Treatment?

A layered laser treatment is a strategic approach to skin - where your clinician combines two or more laser modalities in one treatment or over a tailored plan. This allows each technology to target different depths and different concerns, giving you better results in fewer sessions. Think of it like a multi-course skin care menu. Each laser brings something to the table - and together, they can deliver an incredible transformation to your skin.

Why Layering Works

- Treats multiple skin issues in a single plan
- Maximises results by targeting all skin layers
- Customisable to your skin tone, age, and goals
- Often reduces total number of sessions needed
- Enhances natural collagen production over time
